Carestream Dental Showcases Four Solutions at International Dental Show

New Extraoral and Intraoral Imaging Product Offerings Streamline Workflow and Improve Doctor-to-Patient Communication

Cologne, Germany – Carestream Dental, the exclusive manufacturer of KODAK Dental Systems, today began demonstrations of four innovative solutions to attendees of the 34th International Dental Show (IDS), being held through Saturday, March 26, at Koelnmesse in Cologne.

During the course of the IDS event, the Carestream Dental team will showcase the newest additions to its extraoral and intraoral imaging system families; an updated intraoral camera with caries detection technology; plus cutting-edge imaging management software. These four innovative solutions, designed specifically for the oral healthcare market, include:

The versatile, all-purpose CS 9300 extraoral imaging system, a hybrid unit that combines 2D imaging and medium field 3D capabilities for the widest scope of applications within group practices. With its best-in-class image quality and usability, the CS 9300 addresses key needs in terms of view sizes, flexibility and interoperability.

The CS 1600 intraoral camera with caries detection, a next generation, multi-use intraoral camera that combines exclusive, patented caries detection technology with Carestream Dental's industry-leading image quality. This easy-to-use system marks a leap forward in dental care, as dentists typically must rely upon traditional, more subjective methods of caries detection to aid in their diagnoses and treatments.

The compact CS 7600 digital intraoral radiography system, which reinvents imaging plate technology by improving usability, productivity and security. This cost-effective system's patented intelligent workflow technology prevents plate mix-up and reduces operation time. The CS 7600's workflow is fully automated and as easy to use as film – with all the benefits of digital imaging.

And CS Imaging, a software system that helps oral health professionals manage and analyze a vast array of digital images common in today's modern dental practice – including intraoral radiographs, extraoral scans, as well as imported images. Featuring an intuitive and fully customizable user workspace, CS Imaging allows users to modify screen layout; create toolbars; customize image galleries; arrange panels conveniently; and set up and save custom workspaces for quick access to exactly what the user needs, when it's needed.

In addition to those new imaging solutions, Carestream Dental will proudly present its latest in R&D activities, including 3D clinical applications and CAD/CAM dentistry.

"Together, Carestream Dental's new solutions streamline practice workflow and improve doctor-to-patient communication," said Dr. Edward Shellard, chief marketing officer and director of business development for Carestream Health, Inc. "We're excited to demonstrate these latest innovations in Cologne and are eager to take these products to market throughout 2011."

Carestream Dental invites all IDS attendees to visit stand T40 / U41, in hall 10.2, to get a hands-on demonstration of its suite of upcoming solutions during the show.
